DEDICATION

We are happy to dedicate the 1963 BRUIN to a devoted friend of Catholic High School who was a guiding spirit and coordinator in the construction of our new school.

Born, January 17, 1896, in Moulton, Texas, Mr. Raymond Post served as Second Lieutenant in the Signal Corps in World War I. When his military service was over he earned a degree in architecture at Texas A & M and subsequently took up the practice of his profession in Abilene and Wichita Falls, Texas.

In 1934 he moved to Baton Rouge to set himself up in practice but World War II soon interrupted his plans. He became the chief engineer and supervisor of the Navy Blimp Base in Houma during this period.

Shortly after the war he became an associate with a well-known Baton Rouge architectural firm but in 1954 he inaugurated a partnership known as Post and Harelson, Architects.

It was only a few years later that Mr. Post began devoting his energies to the planning and erection of the new Catholic High School. He worked quietly and earnestly, donating his time, ideas, knowledge and efforts towards the erection of this new school plant for the Brothers of the Sacred Heart, whom he had come to love and admire. - - - (His son is a graduate of Catholic High, and his wife is a past president of the Catholic High Mothers' Club) - - -

Even after the completion of the new school, Mr. Post did not lose interest. When consulted in solving new problems that came up, he responded graciously. Eagerly did he accept the request to work on the plans for our proposed gym-auditorium. But the Almighty had other plans for him and took him to Himself, January, 1963.

It is because of Mr. Post's kindness and consideration for others, his devotion to duty and his great interest and enthusiasm for the work of the brothers and their new school that we have chosen him for the subject of this dedication.

Principal's Message

My Dear Boys,

During yet one more year it has been my privilege to have been your principal. And even though with this privilege has gone a great responsibility, I am still extremely grateful to Almighty God for the experience.

I am also indebted to your dear parents who have entrusted you to the care of The Brothers of the Sacred Heart and hope that we have not disappointed them. It remains to you to prove that their choice of a catholic secondary education for you was a wise one.

Some would have you a bemused group of disillusioned teenagers, dissatisfied, perplexed and bewildered. I know better. You have been grounded in a confident trust in the goodness of an Almighty God Who knows all and sees all. That is enough--if you continue to make yourselves worthy of his love. You will do so if you make sure to receive the Sacraments frequently.

Keep close to our Blessed Mother by daily presenting her a spiritual bouquet of Hail Mary's. And once in a while whisper a little prayer for me.

Seniors, so long. Be real C.H.S. gentlemen. What more could any man be?

Choicest blessings of the Sacred Heart to all of you!

Sincerely and devotedly,

Brother Carol, s.c.

ICS

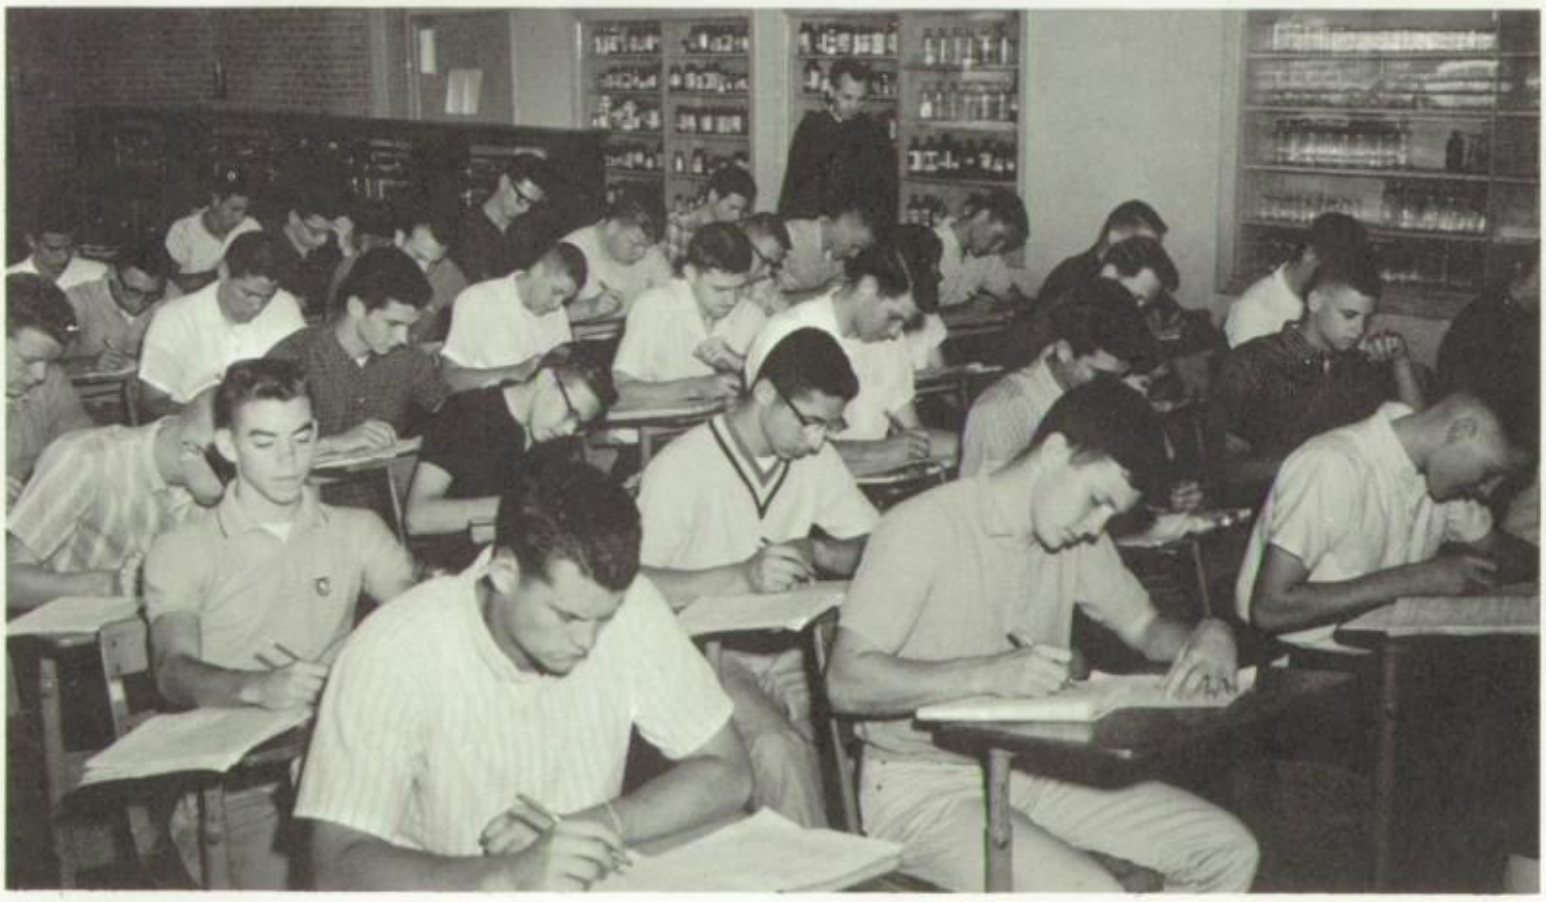
MATHEMATICS

Taking mathematics at C.H.S. is more than just learning to work problems mechanically. In the four year course offered at Catholic High the student has ample opportunity to become well acquainted with arithmetic, algebra, geometry and trig.

Advanced algebra is a must for all potential college students while knowledge of the slide rule is indispensable for working the complicated problems in chemistry and physics.

Seniors are given a chance to take advanced mathematics as they look ahead to a future in the college or business world.

Math Department Stresses College Studies

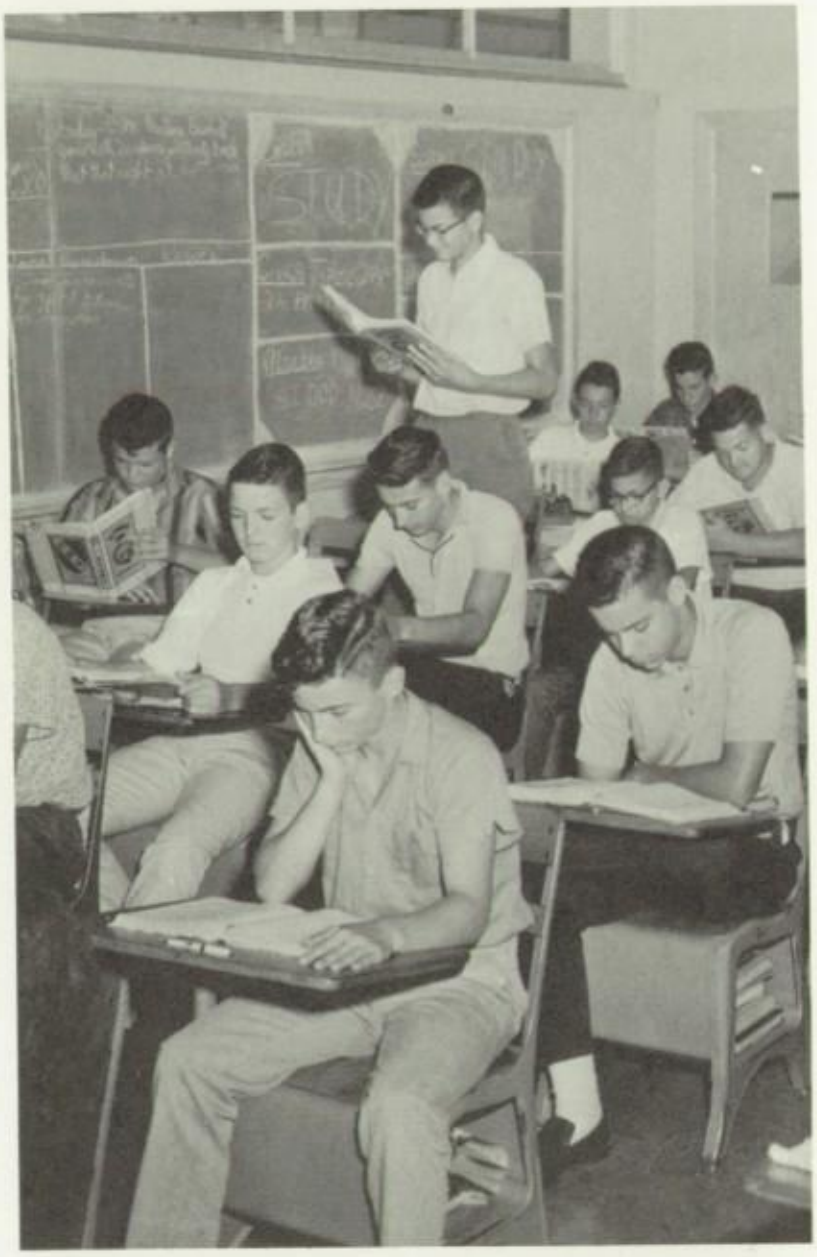


Brother Eldon keeps a "sharp eye" as his class takes a quiz.

ENGLISH

As a student learns more about writing and speaking our language he begins to appreciate more the things that this skill can do for him.

The English development program at C.H.S. includes a full four year study of grammar as well as literature and composition. Spelling, vocabulary and sentence structure are very important parts of the course as are outside readings and original reports. Through these studies the student receives a solid background for his future career.



Gabriel Kora reads the story of "Young David Copperfield."

English Teaches Fundamentals for Living

Nothing adds to the vocabulary better than reading.

C.H.S. students can boast of having one of the finest high school laboratories in the district.

SCIENCE

At Catholic High a student is given the chance to master four sciences during his high school days. As a freshman the boy takes general science and follows this with a course in biology the next year. Chemistry is taught on the junior level and gives the student a chance to study the composition of all substances.

During his senior year he examines the laws and properties of matter as he is introduced to the study of physics.

At the completion of his four years he is more than ready to accept the challenge of modern science.

Science Classes Learn Through Experiment

COMMERCE

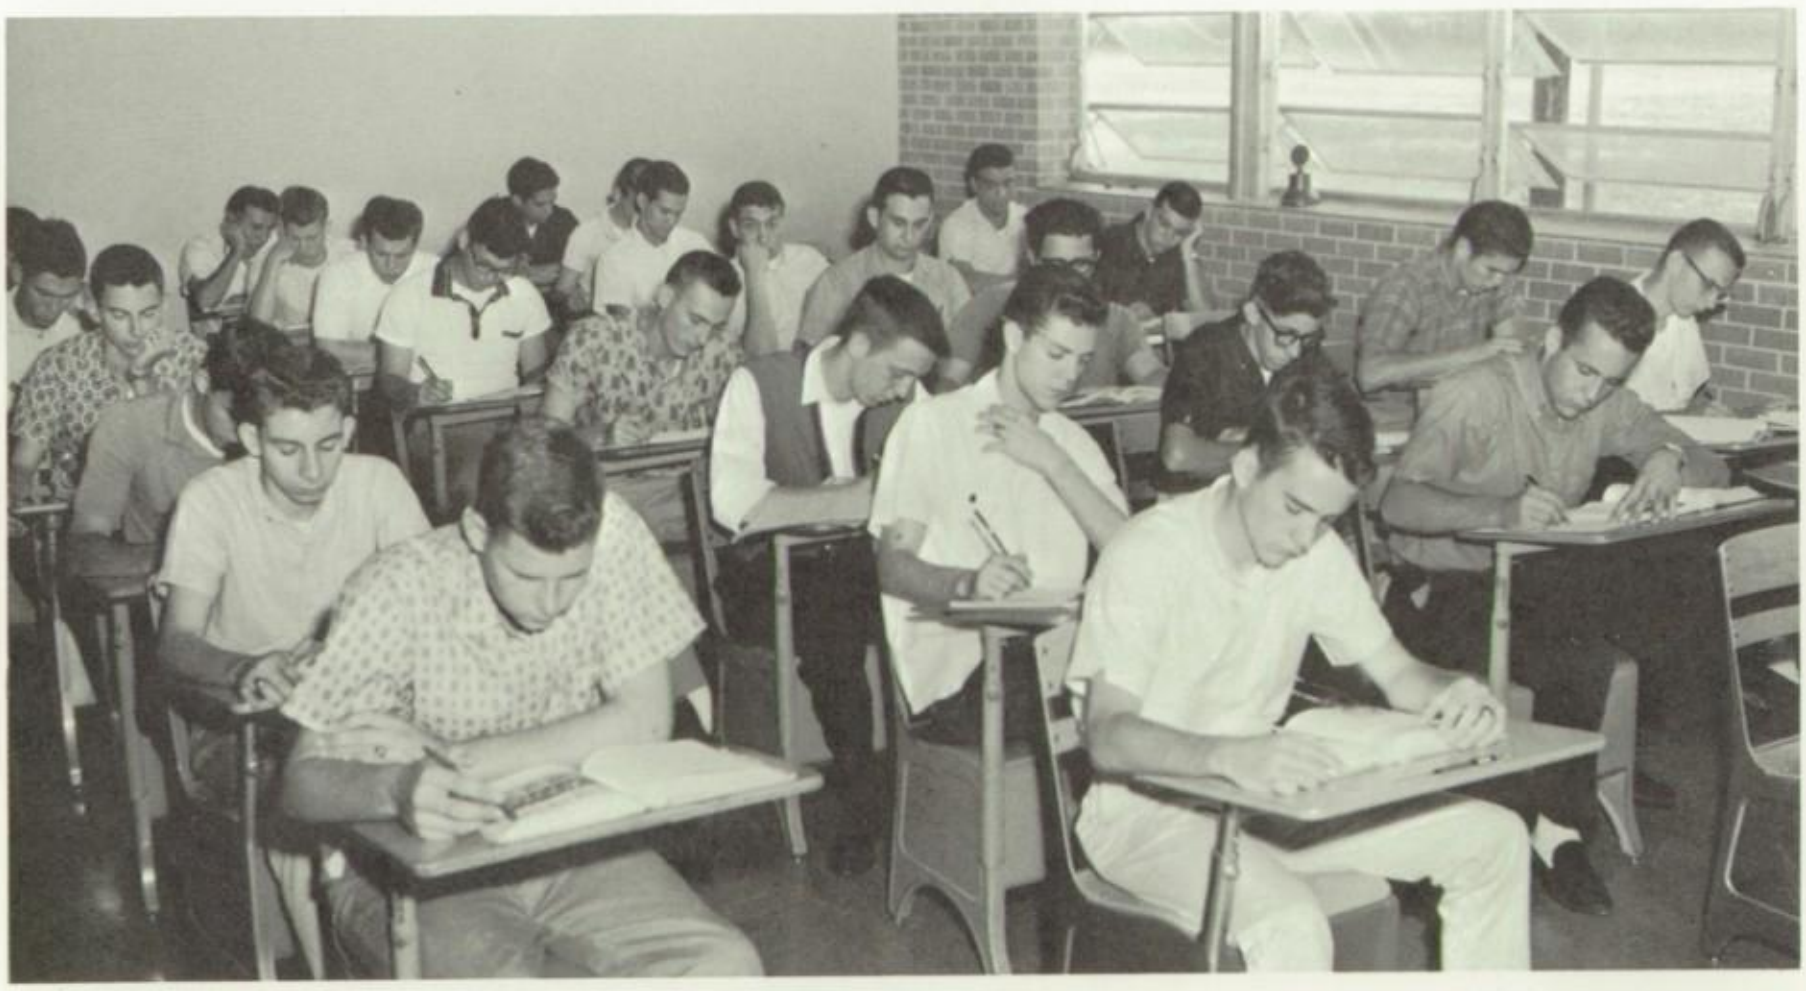
The commercial program prepares students for future clerical and business vocations. Students strive for an early understanding of business practices through the study of general business and business law.

Learning speed and accuracy is one of the first essentials the boy must learn in his junior year. Typing and the use of other machines must be mastered if the student is to progress.

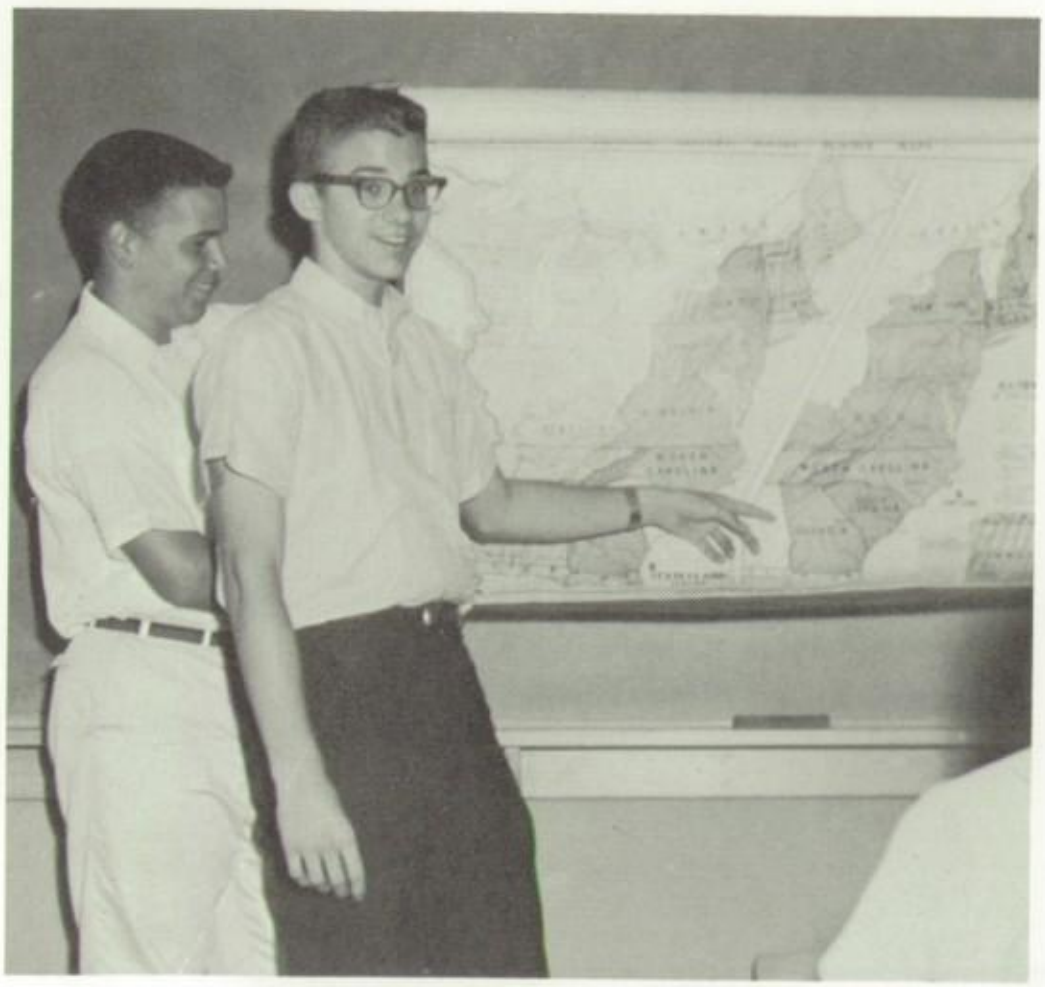
As a senior he is given a chance to learn how to intelligently record business transactions when he takes his final course in bookkeeping.

James Jackson finds the answer quickly by using the adding machine.

Commerce Department Strives for Efficiency



Senior B, hard at work in business mathematics.



The importance of the American colonies is discussed in World History.

SOCIAL STUDIES

To enable the student to understand the various world problems which surround him the social studies curriculum offers a number of diversified courses.

On the Freshman level new students are taught to understand the basic fundamentals of government and apply them to current events. Sophomores and Juniors study the Ancient World from earliest recorded history to the present in their world history classes.

The senior year is devoted to American history with emphasis on note taking, class discussion and historical research.

Social Studies Fosters Appreciation of Heritage

Trey LeBlanc refers to the Civics current events chart as his classmates look on.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

To develop the boy physically as well as mentally, a well-rounded health and physical education program is conducted each day. Part of the time is given to calisthenics while most of the period is devoted to participation in intramural sports.

The general rules of baseball, volleyball, softball, and other games are taught so that a boy may learn team work and sportsmanship.

First aid classes supplement the course in order that all students may learn the basic fundamentals of caring for an injured person.

"Two Points"

Physical Education

Builds Strong Bodies

Freshmen and sophomores engage in a lively game of handball.

Noon recess is a perfect time for a student to visit the Blessed Sacrament.

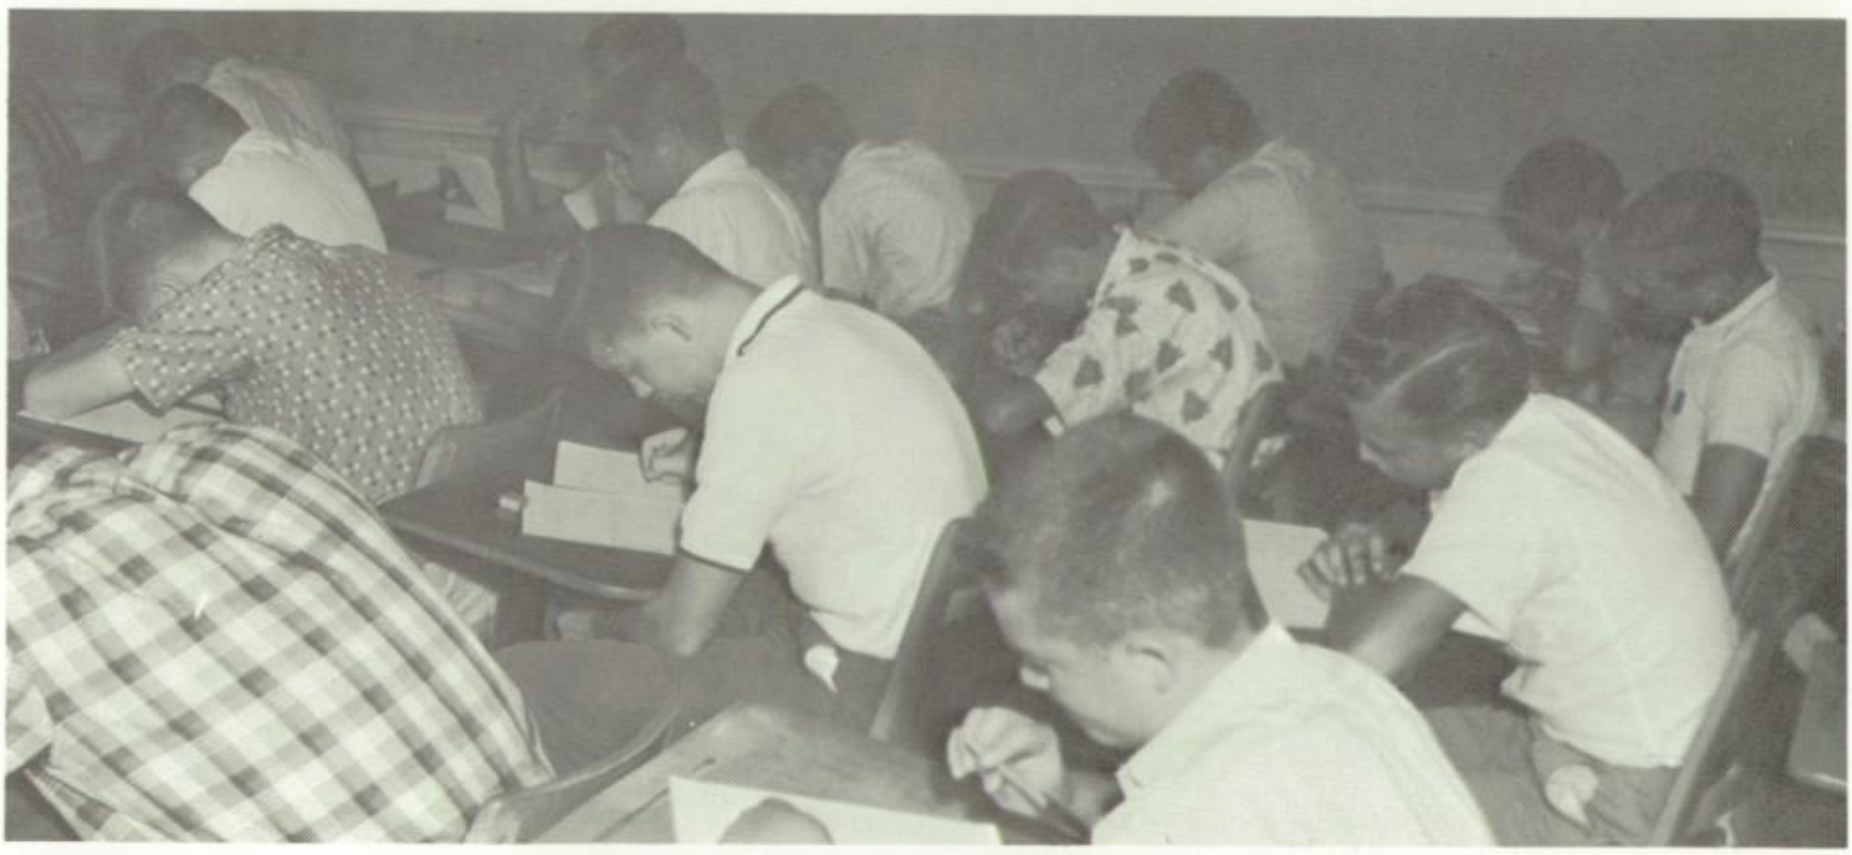
RELIGION

Religion courses at Catholic High strive toward only one end, namely the Catholic education and development of the boy.

In the Freshman year students are instructed with the basic fundamentals of Catholic life, prayer, and the Mass. In his sophomore year the course progresses into a more detailed study of the sacraments and the commandments.

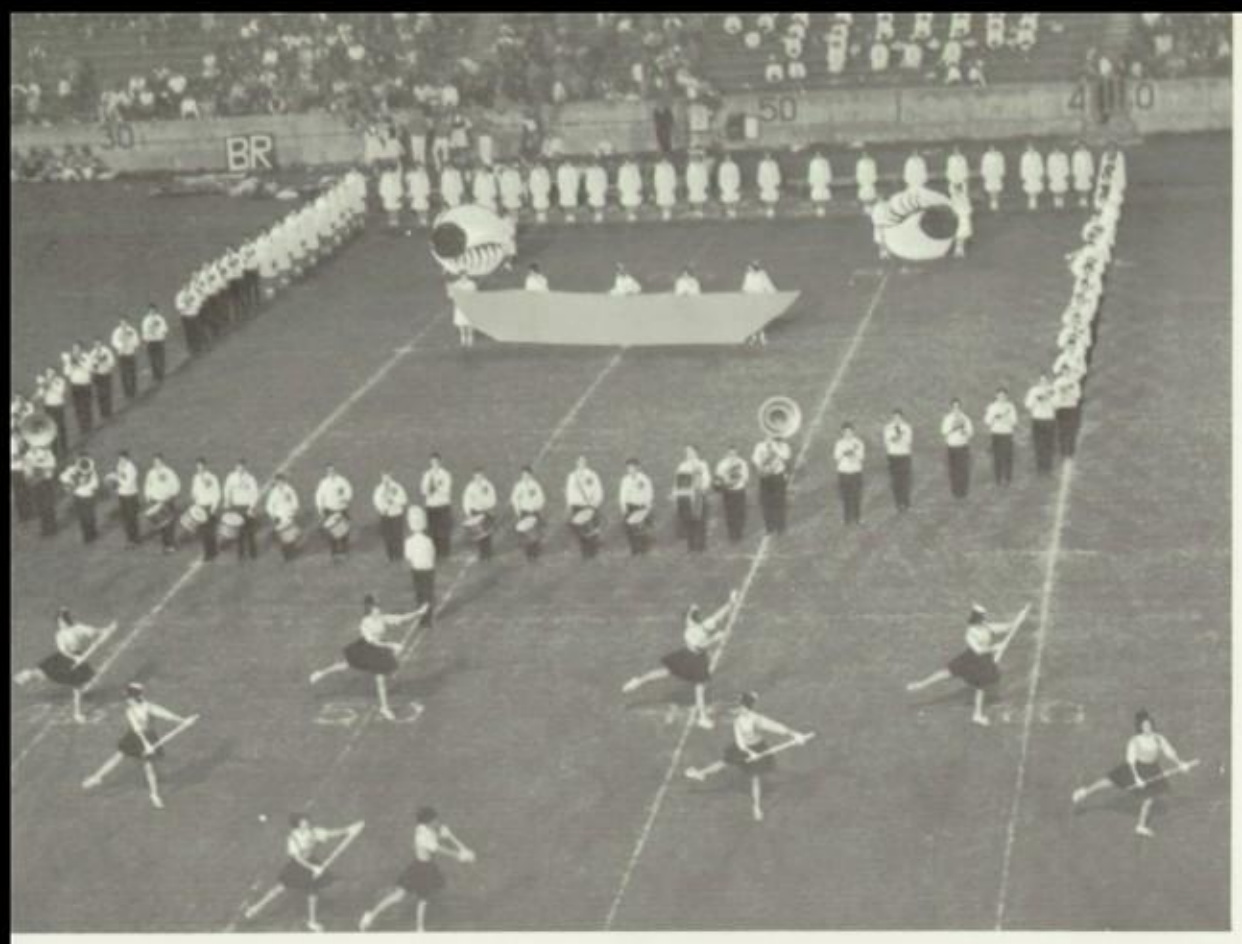
Juniors become acquainted with the life, suffering and death of Christ through the study of the New Testament, while seniors prepare for their future life by studying philosophy and attending a series of marriage discussions.

Religion Puts Faith into Action



One full hour each day is devoted to religion or to religious activities.

AROUND THE CAMPUS



"I don't know, but it looks like something is wrong with his left eye."

"When do we leave?"

Annual Key Club Ball was enjoyed by all.

Delegates from each room formed the Red Cross Council.
